Timely redressal of the grievances through appropriate committees:

- Grievances are submitted by students or staff either online or offline and they are properly recorded in the register as well as mentor-mentee record sheet.
- The grievances received are redressed in the college at three levels, depending upon the gravity of the issue raised.
 1. Mentor level,
 2. GRC level, and
 3. Principal level.
- As the College has an institutionalized best practice - Mentor-Mentee System - the mentor concerned looks into the issue, records it in the Mentee profile sheet and interacts with the student concerned where necessary. He/She makes sincere efforts to redress the grievance at mentor level.
- Grievance Redressal Committee (GRC) meets every month/bi-monthly and reviews the grievances received if any. However, if the situation demands, it conducts immediate meetings and discusses the issue in grievance. The GRC interacts with the students and tries to redress the issue with intimation to the Principal.
- If any grievance is beyond the redressal capacity of the GRC, it takes the issue to the notice of the principal who convenes a staff council meeting or CPDC meeting where necessary, and redresses the grievance.
- Sometimes, grievances like the medium of instruction cannot be redressed by the principal also. Then, the issue is represented to the higher authorities or concerned officials. Now the students are not disallowed to write in the regional language.
- Grievances like the marriage of a girl student in the middle of graduation, and the student is willing to continue her study while parents and husband may not be willing to send her to college. In such cases, it takes about a month's time to convince the parents.

- Grievances about higher education for girls, the girl is willing for higher studies while the parents are unwilling; and the girl approaches the mentor and shares her situation orally. Mentors make sincere efforts to talk to parents and convince them for their ward's higher studies, and sometimes they fail and often they succeed. The principal also interacts with the parents in some cases.
- Seeking financial assistance is another grievance we see in the college. When a student of I Bcom from 2021-22 batch is found to be suffering from malfunctioning of liver, he approached the class mentor; and the issue is discussed at college level by all; all the students and staff come to his rescue by raising a fund of 40,000/- for his medical expenses. In a week's time, his grievance is addressed, at least partially.
